Vinyl Football

A local restaurant teamed up with area high schools for a fun promotion using mini vinyl footballs. The footballs featured the name of the restaurant, the school name and a coupon for a free drink with a sandwich purchase. The balls were tossed into the stands at home games and fans could redeem them anytime during the week after the game. The payoff was immense. This creative and cost effective giveaway was so popular that it has become an annual promotion.

A car dealership was promoting its newly expanded service department. The dealership had Mini Plastic Footballs printed with the names of several local high schools on one side and a coupon for a free oil change on the other. The footballs were tossed to the fans at each high school's games. The dealership noticed a marked increase in their service business as well as their car sales from the traffic brought in by the promotion.

Edwards High School Football won their 5th consecutive OHSSA Division I State Championship. Each player was awarded a one of a kind, 2016 OHSSA Championship football. The ball, which had the team name and picture on it, was placed in the display case outside the locker room for the entire school to see. Players could sign each other's footballs and write any kind of message they wanted due to the large white signature panel. At the end of the year at the sports awards banquet, one of the signature balls was auctioned off with everyone on the team's signature and all the proceeds went to the football program for next year. These footballs were a monster hit and a great way to congratulate the team on yet another fantastic season.
