Waste Bag Dispenser

To help clean up their local parks, the Bay Village City Council decided to have stations set up around the parks and supplied bone shaped waste bag dispensers. The dispensers had the Bay Village logo and the phone number of a local animal clinic that sponsored the initiative. Dog walkers loved this, because they never had to worry about bringing their own bags from home, or purchasing more at the store. This resulted in a much cleaner park environment and the local animal clinic saw a large spike in business.

A full-service veterinary medical facility wanted to purchase something to give away to people who adopted dogs from them. They decided to go with 25-foot heavy duty retractable leashes. This was a perfect promotion because every dog needs to be exercised. The facility logo, address and phone number were printed on the leashes. If the owner had any questions or wanted to get something checked out, they knew who to contact right away. With the leash being so durable and able to hold up to a 60lb dog, it was sure to last the owner many years.

Nylon Pet Bowls

A minor league baseball team had a "bring your dog to the park" night. Before the game, fans were able to walk around the field with their dogs. Every fan that brought their dog were also given an easy to store, soft nylon pet food bowl. On the bowl was printed the minor league's full color process logo and on the second side the logo of a dog food manufacturer who sponsored the event. This very popular event keeps attracting more and more fans and dogs each year.
