Mini Vinyl Soccer Balls Standing Out

Recruiting student athletes is an important part of an athletic department's job at many colleges. The athletic director and soccer coach for Ancilla College visit high school and community soccer games to scout players and wanted to do something to ensure that Ancilla would stand out from other schools. They ordered mini vinyl soccer balls with the college's name, mascot, website and phone number printed on them. The soccer balls were given to potential players as a fun and visible reminder of the Ancilla soccer program. Ancilla noted a marked increase in student interest in their school and the soccer program in particular. Many potential students mentioned the mini soccer balls when they came to visit the campus.

The Alston Rec Center had a wildly successful youth soccer league. They purchased Wilson soccer balls imprinted with tournament information to be used as game balls in each of the championship games. At the end of the game every player on the winning team signed the ball and presented it to their coach. The soccer balls graced many trophy cases and coach's offices with lasting memories of the championship game.

Soccer Luggage Tags

A travel agency wanted to acknowledge its customers for their past business and offer assistance in making holiday travel arrangements. The agency ordered an assortment of Sport Luggage Tags imprinted with the tagline "Champions In Travel" along with their agency logo and phone number. The luggage tags were mailed to all of the customers in the agency's database along with a letter thanking the customers for their business and offering assistance with future travel plans.
