Beverage Coolers

The Westwood High School tennis team, playing in strong heat at times during the spring/summer season, decided to purchase tennis foam beverage coolers for their players and competitors. The coolers not only keep bottles and cans cold but they look like a tennis ball. The coolers had the Westwood High School logo printed on them. The school also put some of the coolers up for sale in the book store to help raise money for the team.

Stress Ball Water Bottle

The Quincy Tennis Academy is one of the top tennis academies in the country. Thousands of kids join each year to develop their game. For each new member who joined, the academy decided it would be a good idea to offer a welcome pack at orientation. They chose to include a stress ball water bottle with the academy name and logo printed on it. The dual function of the water bottle and stress ball has been wildly popular and is reordered numerous times throughout the year.

Luggage Tag

Greenbrier Tennis Club is one of the largest tennis travel teams in the country. Because their members constantly travel to different tournaments they decided to purchase tennis luggage tags. They liked the tennis luggage tag because the tag looks like a tennis ball, is made of heavy duty material and has a large imprint area. Each member of the club was given a set of luggage tags to help identify their racket cases and their luggage when they traveled.
